

What is a Younicos battery based energy storage system?

Centrica (UK) Younicos has been selected by Centrica to design and deliver one of the world's largest battery-based energy storage systems. To be completed by winter 2018, the 49 megawatt (MW) lithium-ion system will respond to fluctuations in electrical demand in less than a second, to maintain electric power frequency and stability.

Did Younicos buy Xtreme Power?

(Prince declined to confirm or deny the $200 million figure.) Last year, Younicos bought the assets of Xtreme Power, a bankrupt U.S. grid battery maker and control software vendor, adding about 60 megawatts of working projects to its portfolio.

However, the "world first" tag might be disputed. In January, Energy-Storage.News reported that a 5MW utility-scale battery park in Germany built by Younicos using battery cells from Samsung SDI was the first to show that it could quickly restore the local grid in the instance of a disruption. Younicos founder Clemens Triebel said at the time that the key to ...
