Solar energy can be extracted at an efficiency rate of approximately 10-17 %, which can then be converted into heat (thermal) or through solar photovoltaic systems to generate electricity. The global horizontal irradiation (GHI) in Kenya is approximately 2400 kWh/m²/year, indicating substantial potential.

Is solar energy making waves in Kenya?

A recent UNESCO report shows that solar energy is making waves in the remote regions of Kenya, which have long been deprived of conventional sources of power. For urban residents such as Hezel in Nairobi, the solar plant installed on her rooftop has become an enduring fixture in her plans for the foreseeable future. "The sun is always there."

What is the irradiance of solar power in Kenya?

In Kenya, the direct normal irradiance (DNI) ranges between 1454 and 6649 Wh/m², with the western region having the lowest, while the northeastern region has a higher potential for concentrated solar power (CSP) [93,94]. The classification of the DNI in Kenya was studied by Ref. using SWERA within a range of 1-10 suitability.
