Borgarnes, West, Iceland is a location that can generate solar energy throughout the year, but its effectiveness varies by season. In simpler terms, it's like having a car that works best in some weather conditions and not so well in others. During summer, you'll get the most power from your solar panels - about 4.64 kilowatt-hours for each kilowatt of solar you have installed every day.

Iceland has long been known as an ideal location for many energy-intensive companies, thanks to its affordable and abundant power springing from its natural geothermal and hydro sources and Landsvirkjun, the National Power Company of Iceland. One Silicon Valley startup has taken notice, and recently announced plans to build a silicon solar factory in Iceland.
